

HEIR TO THRONE OF SPAIN IS BORN; NATION ACCLAMS THE BABY PRINCE

KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN IN COURT COSTUME.

CONGRATULATIONS OF ROYAL PAIR POUR IN FROM ALL NATIONS.

Special cable to Boston American.

MADRID, May 10.—Queen Victoria of Spain today gave birth to a son and heir to the Spanish throne.

The baby, the gratifying result of a pretty woman and a brilliant wedding that was watched by a fearful tragedy, the King and Queen narrowly escaping with their own lives, and today the city of Madrid and the whole Spanish empire are ablaze with flags and songs with patriotic cries of joy.

This is the first time in many generations that the first child of a King and Queen of Spain has been a boy.

The royal couple, the Emperor and Empress, were born in the Imperial palace at Vienna. The happy news brought messages of congratulations are pouring in from every quarter. Little that will dawn the tiny prince here is able to get on his royal feet will soon arrive.

SPANISH FLAG UNFURLED.

It was arranged that flags should be hoisted to announce whether the child were a boy or a girl. The Spanish flag would herald the news that a son had been born, a white flag the coming of a girl.

When the banner of the nation was unfurled, Spain and Portugal and every town in the little empire, flashing its little flags in the sunlight, the cheering crowds in the streets set up a tremendous cheer that would not down.

As soon as the sex of the child was known, the salute of twenty-one guns was fired from the palace grounds, and the king and queen, accompanied by the royal family, went to the Imperial palace to see the first-born of the Spanish crown.

PUT ON A HUGE GOLD PLATE.

Following the custom of centuries, the baby is placed on a huge gold plate, and the king and queen, accompanied by the royal family, go to the Imperial palace to see the first-born of the Spanish crown.

The king, who is the father of the child, is the first to see the baby. He is followed by the queen, and then the rest of the royal family. The baby is then placed in a cradle, and the king and queen go to the Imperial palace to see the first-born of the Spanish crown.

Mighty Shout When 16th Gun Tells Madrid: "IT'S A BOY!"

EVEN the cheers which had resounded through the streets in echo of the cannon's booming died out as the guns counted 13—14—15. There was a moment of suspense—then with the sixteenth round there was a mighty shout echoing through all the streets that drowned out every other sound.

FOR IT WAS A BOY!

Again and again the cannon boomed until twenty-one rounds had been fired, but the balance of the salute was lost and forgotten.

Had the royal child been an infant only fifteen guns would have announced the event. But for a prince the customary salute of twenty-one guns was fired.—From Madrid cable.

SHIPPING PARALYZED BY NEW YORK STRIKE

U. S. MINISTER EXCLAIMS SPAIN'S

BIG TEAMSTERS' UNION TO-DAY JOINS ISSUE WITH 30,000 LONGSHOREMEN.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Leaders of the 20,000 striking longshoremen, whose refusal to work has paralyzed the shipping of the world, declared today that the powerful Teamsters' Union has joined them in the strike, and that every vessel in port would be tied up today.

This means the greatest strike New York has seen in many years.

The effect of the strike is beginning to be felt disastrously in many branches of trade and commerce. Prices of food products and other articles have gone up. Business interests that are dependent upon transatlantic or coastwise trade are at a standstill. The houses have already reached past the million dollar mark, and the cost of the strike is growing enormously.

Board of Arbitration Acts—If Either Side Does Not Accept Its Offer a Public Meeting to Fix the Responsibility Will Be Called, Says Barry.

Members of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration are to-day preparing to use their good offices to get both sides in the teamsters' strike together in an effort to end the struggle between employers and employees.

Richard P. Barry, a member of the board, said to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter to-day: "On Monday both the master teamsters and the union men will be asked to come together and talk the strike situation over. If there is a refusal by either side to arbitrate this strike, the board will call a public mass meeting, as they are empowered to do by law, where the blame will be fixed."

It is the belief of the members of the board that the situation is serious enough, as regards the business interests of the city, for both sides come together and discuss the situation in detail before the board and listen to such suggestions as the State officials may make after hearing what each has to say.

Board to Meet Monday.
On Monday morning the three members of the board, William Howard, chairman, Charles F. Barry, and Richard P. Barry will meet at the offices of the board and officially the beginning of the first day that there is a transatlantic strike in the world.

Today the master teamsters are moving their teams without trouble. Extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent any possibility of a strike. The board will call a public mass meeting, as they are empowered to do by law, where the blame will be fixed."

Strike-Breakers Fight.
The master teamsters, headed by William Howard, Daniel J. Tobin, James J. Barry, and Richard P. Barry, are today preparing to use their good offices to get both sides in the teamsters' strike together in an effort to end the struggle between employers and employees.

GATEWALA MENACED BY MEXICAN WAR

Crisis Imminent in Dispute
Over Trial of General
Lima.

CONTEST VERY UNEQUAL

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Information in the hands of State Department officials shows that the crisis in the affairs of the Guatemalan Republic has arrived.

Whether Mexico will accept a suggestion and agree that General Lima should be tried in Guatemala for inciting the murder of General Balleza, the former President of Guatemala, is a matter which is being discussed in the State Department. It is believed that the United States will not accept the suggestion that the trial should be held in Guatemala, but that it would accept a suggestion that the trial should be held in the United States.

Would Be One-Sided War.

In the event of hostilities between Mexico and Guatemala, the war would be one-sided. Guatemala has no army worth anything, and even an armed volunteer, while Mexico has one of the finest modern armies of the continent.

Mexico's standing army of 10,000 men is equipped with the latest military equipment in the United States. After the war, Mexico has four foreign troops, two from the United States and two from England or Germany.

Mexico claims a standing army of 40,000, and boasts that she can not only equip but also train her army. This is a claim which is being made by the Mexican government, but it is not being made by the United States.

The Guatemalan forces, however, would be commanded by General Lima, who has no military experience. He is a civilian, and his only experience in military work is as a member of the Guatemalan legislature.

Our tailors are picked men, each one selected for his proven proficiency in some important detail of clothes-construction.

Notwithstanding the known ability of this force of experts we make assurance doubly sure by issuing the following instructions:

Linings must be carefully backed—seams closely and firmly worked—stitching neatly done—buttonholes well-worked—all buttons strongly sewed on—every pocket must be stayed from side and top—all stays and tacks firmly worked—every garment must be neatly finished and well pressed.

So, after all, there's nothing strange about the reliability of Morse-made clothing. It's just a matter of care and thoroughness, that's all.

We Don't Want Your Money

If we can't make you a better suit for the price than any other tailor in Boston. Our specialty of a twenty-dollar suit has won fame for us and made us hundreds of customers who know the value of the Newman guarantee of perfect satisfaction. If we make you one suit, we will make all your clothes, all the time, that's our way of doing business. There is no secret in our success, just giving real honest value for a fair price.

We don't need to tell you that cloth of standard wearing quality has a standard market value; that skilled labor to make this cloth properly has a standard value; and that the expert supervision of the making and cutting commands a good salary; consequently the promise of some tailors to give away gold dollars in the form of clothes values is ridiculous, if nothing more.

MISS GILMAN SAYS SHE FEARS NO. 13 HOODOO

"I Will Postively Marry Mr. Corey Monday in the Hotel Gotham," She Declares.

JENIES PREVIOUS WEDDING

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 10.—For the first time since she returned to this country as the affianced bride of William H. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, Miss Gilman has given an interview, telling some of her plans.

Miss Gilman and her companion, Miss Shaw, were seated in Mr. Corey's electric limousine, which was awaiting her arrival from business at the foot of the elevated railroad station at Fifth-street and North-street. She calmly opened the door of the limousine when asked to, and chatted with the reporter until the arrival of Mr. Corey, who said Miss Shaw was interested in the same subject.

Says She Wants to Marry.

"Yes, there is really nothing to say," was Miss Gilman's first remark—"nothing that I haven't already said, or rather written. Several days ago I wrote all that I wanted the public would care to know about my wedding."

She expressed surprise when told that no such communication had appeared in any newspaper, and she said Miss Shaw had changed aimed since.

"Strange," she commented. "Very strange."

The former actress wore a princess gown of blue tulle, heavily embroidered with silver and white. She wore a long veil and a long train. She was escorted by Mr. Corey, who was wearing a tuxedo and a white bow tie.

"Not After Midnight."

"And not after midnight, so that it will be the first and so-called the 'hoosier'?"

"Not after midnight," she replied. "It will take place on May 13."

"Are you not superstitious?"

"Not one bit," she said. "Miss Gilman's friends of Miss Gilman and Mr. Corey have expressed some of the past years."

"No, indeed," laughed Miss Gilman. "This was given with further evidence when I was married at the Hotel Gotham last night, that preparations were being made in the Gilman apartments for a departure on about May 13."

Full yesterday every count and human the attention was called to the fact that the wedding was being held in the Hotel Gotham, Broadway, and that the bride was wearing a tulle gown.

Says She Will Wed in Hotel.

Southwasting, Miss Gilman asserted positively that her wedding would take place in the Hotel Gotham on Monday, May 13, at 10 o'clock.

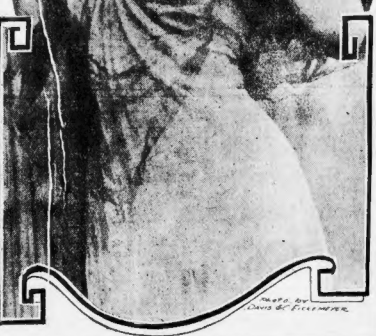

"I have heard that on May 13," she said. "I have heard that on May 13."

Don't Marry a Man With the Vain Idea You Can Reform Him

By Beatrice Fairfax

HUNDREDS of women have married drunkards with the idea that they could help them reform. The plan does not succeed one in a hundred times. If a man has the moral strength to reform he can do it before marriage. Instead of running the risk of dragging a woman down to want and misery...

A Grave Error WHEN a girl has grown to love a man who she has known to be a drunkard, she is committing a grave error. It is a grave error if she marries him, believing his reformation is complete. She has no right to marry and bring a child into the world, handicapped from the start by the curse of a drunkard father...

EVENING GOWN OF SILVER-GRAY SLK

HERE is one of the smartest of the season's gowns for evening wear. It is the product of one of the leading styles for Summer and Fall wear. The material is silver gray pame silk with fetching applications of bronze-green and gold embroidery.

THE stunner of the season is of Val lace, and the sleeves are of tulle d'Alerton with bronze-green silk bands. It is a beautiful gown, and it is a beautiful gown. It is a beautiful gown, and it is a beautiful gown. It is a beautiful gown, and it is a beautiful gown.

Husbands Are Easy to Manage if Women Only Had More Backbone

Women Hold Men Responsible for Their Troubles, Whereas in Most Cases the Difficulty is Within

It is woman's lack of backbone that is responsible for most of the domestic life that makes the conversation of every place where two or three men are gathered together. I could not find a single woman who was not the cause of her own troubles. I could not find a single woman who was not the cause of her own troubles.

Man's Backbone On the contrary she knows that he has too much backbone to stand for such conduct. She is perfectly aware that she would have her own share of the blame, and that knowledge keeps women, as a sex, from ever doing anything that would bring them into conflict with their husbands.

WAY TO LEARN HOUSEKEEPING

DOM people believe that a girl learns how to keep house by watching her mother. This is a mistake. The mother's part is to teach the daughter. The mother's part is to teach the daughter. The mother's part is to teach the daughter. The mother's part is to teach the daughter.
